NOTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

breeding season is busy and we ship on a first come basis. In order to optimally service all breeding requests, we ask that you provide us with as much notification as is possible.

1. MARE OWNER hereby understands and agrees that in order to allow sufficient time for tank preparation and straw transfer, that at least 48 hours advance notice must be provided to Equine-Reproduction.com (hereinafter referred to as SHIPPER) for semen shipment. In addition, we normally ship frozen semen via ground and shipping is rarely possible on Sundays or Holidays. If storage facilities exist locally, we suggest shipping straws at least a week in advance, which will avoid last-minute problems and ensure that a dry shipper is available in order to accommodate your request. If less than 24 hours advance notice is provided, an additional $75.00 fee will be charged. The request will be accommodated if possible, but at the sole discretion of the SHIPPER.

2. SHIPPER will make every effort to accommodate mare owner in expediting shipment of frozen semen, but is not responsible in the event that a shipper is not available to transport semen, shipment does not arrive as anticipated, or is lost, stolen or damaged in transit.

3. SHIPPER is solely responsible for management of the frozen semen for the stallion owner and does NOT guarantee the quality or fertility of said frozen semen. Any contracts and statements made by the stallion owner to mare owner are not the responsibility of the SHIPPING FACILITY and are by and between stallion owner and mare owner. Information of thawing protocol will be provided, as well as anticipated post thaw motility of the stallion on the frozen semen provided.

4. MARE OWNER and their veterinarian are responsible for explicitly following the instructions provided with each shipment for the proper handling, thawing, and use of frozen semen. Equipment required by MARE OWNER's veterinarian includes a temperature -controlled thawing bath, liquid nitrogen, Styrofoam box, straw tweezers, incubator, and AI supplies normally used with horses;

5. Mare owner is responsible for all contracts, fees, dues, etc., being paid and notification made to SHIPPER prior to shipment of semen. Semen will not be shipped without stallion owner's prior approval and written authorization. Please be sure that the stallion owner's requirements have been met prior to requesting a shipment of semen;

6. Mare owner is responsible for all shipping expenses, container/dry shipper deposits, breeding fees, veterinary fees, etc. Please be sure that SHIPPER has a credit card number and fee approval with your signature on file, or a breeding deposit in escrow prior to requesting a shipment of semen. If paying by credit card, we will not ship semen without a signed approval for use of your credit card. Prior to shipping, a deposit of Twelve Hundred Fifty Dollars US ($1240.00) is required. A One Hundred Seventy - Five Dollar US ($175.00) fee for the cost of loading the shipper tank with liquid nitrogen, tank rental, straw transfer and document preparation and packaging must be paid prior to shipping. The cost of shipping is in addition to the above fees and must be paid prior to shipping, as well. The $175.00 fee for loading the shipper, etc. and the shipping fees are non-refundable. SHIPPER is not responsible for delayed, lost, stolen, or damaged shipments.

7. Mare owner is responsible for the return of the shipping container/dry shipper within four (4) days of receipt of same. In the event the shipping container /dry shipper is not returned with said four (4) days, MARE OWNER will be assessed a $50.00 daily rental fee;

We at Equine-Reproduction.com understand and appreciate that mares do not cooperate with our best plans. However, in order to facilitate and insure that semen is shipped in a timely fashion, we ask that attempts be made to complete the requests outlined above. We will do everything possible to ship semen upon notification, but aren't always able to anticipate a sudden surge in requests for shipments. However, we will make every effort to fulfill your request.
